

1 DELEGATE HARDWICKE: Well, Delegate Chabot,
2 I must concede that you have a point. The way this will 3 operate, and as I understand it, is that before July 1,
4 1968, those cases will be tried in the magistrates'
5 court and the State can take an appeal as it now can.

6 As to those cases which are tried in the 7 magistrates' court until the new district court comes 8 into effect, the State can still take an appeal no matter 9 when the offense was committed, even though it was 10 committed after July 1st, 1968.

11 If the case is tried in the magistrates' court 12 and not in the new district court, the case can take its 13 appeal in the superior court or the district court, as it 14 will be called. These conditions occur if the offense and 15 the trial took place before January 1, 1970.
